RING NO. SIX

Delaware Valley Conjurers Club

Newsletter

APRIL 1994

Notice is hereby given that the next stated meeting of the Delaware Valley Conjurers Club will be held on Monday, April 11, 1994, at 7:30 post meridiem. Since the Prez and I were a bit stumped as to what we could do, Dave went to his list of "168-things-to-do-at-a-magic-club" and came up with "Do your Favorite Trick" night. OK, it's not exciting, but at least we'll all do something, even the crew from the Main Line that always comes late and rarely performs (and you know who you are). If we all do something, this could be fun, and if you don't have a favorite trick, why do you belong to a magic club?

I received a letter from member Hank Strasser with some nice info and a complaint about the Ring Reports not always appearing in the Linking Ring. Let me address the complaint first: Ring reports are submitted by the Recording Secretary, a position that is not currently filled (I'm the Corresponding Secretary, to answer the question posed on most of your lips). Prez Kelly takes it upon himself to write up and submit the reports. The other factor is one of timing - the editors request that reports be in by the 14th of the month, which more often than not is perilously close to our meetings. We're not sure, but we suspect that if the report they get is too old, they won't print it.

On to the other stuff from Hank. He would like me to tell you that the SYM (Society of Young Magicians) has 2 active assemblies in the area - one in Warminster, PA and the other in Moorestown, NJ. They meet twice a month, except for the summer. For more info, call Hank at 609.877.7653.

Hank also sent along a two page list of magic goings-on that he knows about, some of which appears below.

Up and Coming Events:

April 10 - the semi-annual Bob Little Super Sunday. The Fiesta Motor Inn, Willow Grove, PA, $17. Go buy a new favorite trick for Monday night.

April 22 - IBM Ring 165 (Woodbury NJ) - Lecture by Bob Read.

April 23 - Magic Expo in Easton PA, sponsored by the Allentown Society of Magicians. $45, Mark Wilson, and the Pendragons. Contact Jeff Stortz at 610.837.9781 for more info.

New and Improved: Member Ed Schmitt announces the production of a new Schmitt, baby Alison on February 20. What with all those sleepless nights, he must be getting a lot of practicing in.

Next Month: May. Can we plan that far ahead?
