SEPTEMBER 1994

Notice is hereby given that the next stated meeting of the Delaware Valley Conjurers Club will be held on Monday, September 12, 1994, at 7:30 post meridiem. It's time once again for the ever-popular Mystery Night. That's right, folks, we couldn't think of any theme for the evening, so it's gonna be pot luck. There's the slightest of chances that a lecturer may be available from the just concluded MAES convention, but we won't know until Monday night. So, plan on bringing a trick or two to show at the meeting - you must have bought something new in the past few months.

Speaking of the MAES, hopefully some of you attended and can report back on how the convention was. I know Marc was performing, so at least he can tell us all about it. Did George Spence defend his Mentalism award? Did George go? Do they still have a Mentalism award? How many more questions can I ask to fill up this page?

Start practicing - the Night of the Contests is almost upon us. I assume that it will be in either October or November. Perhaps we can kill some time Monday night deciding when (or find out when DeSouza will be out of town, and have it then).

Next Month: October. Beyond that, I'm clueless.
